LETTER TO OUR FOOD BANK FAMILY

Dear Friends,

The past year has been unlike anything we've seen in the Food Bank's 37 years, and it has affected all of us in so many ways. Although it was a year of growth and providing more meals to our neighbors than ever before—80.3 million, to be exact—it was also a year during which so many families faced hunger for the very first time.

If we ever doubted the presence of hunger in Northern Illinois, the COVID-19 pandemic has shown there is still a great deal of work to be done to ensure our neighbors have access to the nutritious groceries they need to weather life's many curveballs.

And yet, in a year when our everyday lives were upended, we witnessed so much hope:

We saw our community unite for one another. Watching the care, compassion, and dedication to reaching every neighbor has been inspiring. Volunteers showed up to serve, wanting to make a difference.

Individuals invested more generously than we have seen, including donating their stimulus checks. Our more than 900 amazing network partners changed their food distributions overnight to safely accommodate the growing need. We were blown away by the generosity of our 450 food manufacturer and retail partners who donated so much food to help our neighbors in the midst of a severely disrupted global food supply chain. No matter what you had to offer, you supported one another in ways we've never seen before.

We saw the resilience of the human spirit. 30-50 percent of neighbors who have visited our network since last March have found themselves in need for the very first time. Families unsure of where to turn or what to expect stepped out in courage, learned they are not alone, and that we're here to help. While it would be easy to be saddened by a year like this, you chose to join us in making a difference for one another. That is resilience.

Our work has never been more important or critical than it is now. Feeding America estimates that COVID-19 has increased food insecurity in our 13-county service area by a staggering 62 percent, and has nearly doubled the child food insecurity rate – resulting in 1 in 6 children facing hunger.

These estimates are fueling our drive to increase our meal distribution, and we're proud to have increased mobile pantry distributions and added Pop-Up Markets to help meet the need. Each month, we are holding nearly 90 mobile pantries and pop-ups, and distributing more than 9 million meals through our network and programs. We are committed to continue this increased rate of distribution throughout 2021.

We invested in our remarkable network members by providing $1.7 million in funding and support since the onset of the pandemic. Our network of feeding programs has leaned in with compassion and strength to meet the needs of their communities now and for the months ahead.

These unprecedented times will be our reality for the foreseeable future, and we promise to work tirelessly, every day to help our families stay afloat as they recover from the health and economic impacts of the pandemic. Please know that your support of our work is more appreciated and important than ever.

We witness miracles every day that happen because our community is so strong, compassionate, courageous, resilient and kind. Thank you from the bottom of our hearts for being part of our Food Bank family. We are truly grateful. And we are all in this together.

Sincerely,

"When you know that you can at least have a full dinner table, then all has not fallen by the wayside. You can come around [as] a family and be grateful for what is on that table," she said. "[The Food Bank] helps us to feel like we are going to make it."
