Letter to our Food Bank family

Dear Food Bank Friends,

Last year, we told you about our ambitious goal: providing every meal, every day for every hungry neighbor by the year 2020. As we end our first year of this five-year strategic plan, we are pleased to report that we have made great strides toward this goal.

When we committed ourselves to the #75MillionMealGoal, we knew it would not be easy. But with your support, we have taken many steps toward solving hunger in our community. With much thanks to you, our generous supporters, we were able provide the equivalent of 57 million meals to our hungry neighbors in Fiscal Year 2015, an increase of 14 percent over last year.

Unfortunately, many in our communities are still without the food they need to lead full, active, productive lives. Despite reported improvements in the economy, too many of our hungry neighbors are living pay-check-to pay-check. The urgency to meet their needs drives our efforts.

Key to our progress are new strategies and methods: data mapping that helps us understand where the need is greatest, and new logistics approaches that reduce costs and get nutritious food onto the tables of our hungry neighbors faster.

However, helping get meals to our hungry neighbors is not enough. We need to ensure that the meals we provide address the nutritional requirements of our neighbors in need. For example, our Milk2MyPlate program was nationally recognized this year by The Innovation Center for U.S. Dairy® and serves as a model for other Feeding America food banks as a way to collaborate with the local dairy industry to provide nutrient-rich, fresh milk to hungry neighbors.

We recognize that achieving our goal will require solutions that we have not yet conceived. So we are strengthening our Food Bank leaders and member agencies through training, and building agency capacity through grant opportunities.

As always, we move toward our #75MillionMealGoal with a focus on frugality. Our fiscal responsibility and performance have been recognized by Charity Navigator, which, in October 2015, gave the Food Bank its highest ranking for the 12th year in a row, and by the Better Business Bureau, from which the Food Bank earned the coveted BBB accreditation.

We know solving hunger will not be easy. But with your help, we have made great progress and are confident we will continue to close the hunger gap in northern Illinois.

You have our word: we aren't going to stop until we're providing every meal, every day, for every hungry neighbor.

Warmly,

Julie Yurko

“This experience of relying on the food pantry has been an eye-opener. I worked 25 years straight and never needed anything from anybody before losing my job. When you do need the help, it’s nice it’s there.”
